MILETTE GAIFMAN

Professor Gaifman is a scholar of Archaic and Classical Greek art. She did her undergraduate work at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem and received her Ph.D. from Princeton.

What is your experience in this region?

My research and teaching, both in art history and in classics, focus on this region, to which I return with great excitement whenever I can. I am particularly fond of Santorini, where I did some of my fieldwork, tramping about the hills in search of Greek gods—or, at least, the remnants of their temples. And I look forward to returning to a square in the Plaka, where David and I spent a week on scaffolding, closely examining the Choragic Monument of Lysicrates, the subject of my upcoming book.

What makes you most excited about this program?

I'm very taken by the idea of making the journey by water from Athens, the birthplace of democracy and the center of Greek culture for centuries, via the famous city of Troy, to the former "Constantinopolis," the capital of the Byzantine Empire. The "wine-dark sea" is an essential element of the region. It is impossible to understand the politics, economics, and culture of the Mediterranean peoples without understanding the importance of the water.

What kind of lectures have you planned?

I plan to give lectures on ancient Greek art and culture, looking in particular at the complex relationship between myths and daily experience in antiquity and over the centuries. We will be considering how accounts about Greek gods and heroes, including stories of the Trojan War, were a constant presence in antiquity, with an enduring impact still today.

Is there anything else you'd like to share?

The Acropolis Museum offers a unique experience and captures a slice in time of this iconic site; it is one of my favorite museums, and particularly poignant for its combination of modern architecture and ancient treasures, looking back at the Acropolis. I'm also excited to meet other people who share an interest in this part of the world—and to enjoy the wonderful food with them! Every visit offers a new perspective on this region, one we will see together.

ATHENS / PIRAEUS / EMBARK SEA CLOUD II

Wednesday, July 10

This morning, visit the Museum of Cycladic Art, whose notable collection of ancient artifacts focuses on small-scale Cycladic marble figurines. The abstract simplicity of these tiny Bronze Age sculptures greatly inspired many 20th- and 21st-century artists, including Brâncuși, Modigliani, Henry Moore, and Ai Weiwei. After a seaside lunch, continue to Piraeus, where you will board Sea Cloud II. Stand on deck as we sail to Amorgos. (B/L/D)

MORNING AT SEA / AMORGOS

Thursday, July 11

After a morning at sea, step ashore on Amorgos, a small, rugged island of whitewashed villages. Accompany an expert guide up to the Byzantine Monastery of Hozoviotissa and marvel at how this stark white structure clings to precipitous cliffs facing out to sea. For more than a thousand years, the monastery has been a place of pilgrimage for worshippers who come to venerate its miraculous icon of the Virgin Mary. As Sea Cloud II sails to Santorini this evening, attend the captain's welcome reception and dinner. (B/L/R/D)

SANTORINI / AFTERNOON AT SEA

Friday, July 12

As we approach the port of Santorini (officially known as Thera) this morning, stand on deck to behold this picture-perfect Cycladic island, a large, mostly submerged caldera (volcanic crater) formed by an eruption 3,600 years ago. Upon arrival, travel to the Bronze Age archaeological site of Akrotiri, enjoying an expert-led inside look at this city preserved under volcanic ash like Pompeii. Visit the nearby Museum of Prehistoric Thera to view treasures excavated from the site. On your own, explore Santorini's many enchanting vistas, including its traditional cubical white houses carved into the clifftops. Return to the ship for lunch and enjoy an afternoon at sea as we sail to Patmos. (B/L/D)

PATMOS / SAMOS

Saturday, July 13

Arrive at the sacred island of Patmos, where St. John the Evangelist spent his exile. Join an expert guide for a look inside the UNESCO-listed Cave of the Apocalypse, where St. John are currently restoring the city's "terrace houses," luxurious Roman-era residential villas that feature exceptional frescoes and mosaics, including the largest Roman mosaic floor in western Turkey. Behold the intricate, two-story façade of the Library of Celsus, one of the largest Graeco-Roman libraries. Then visit the Temple of Hadrian and the immense ancient theater. After returning to the ship for lunch, the afternoon is at leisure in Kuşadası, with its lively bazaar and striking natural surroundings of pebble beaches and azure coves. Active travelers may opt for a guided tour through the ruins of Priene, an ancient city once conquered by Athenians, Lydians, and Persians. Return to the ship for dinner. (B,L,D) reportedly dictated the Book of Revelation to his loyal disciple. Then join an expert guide for a tour of the 11th-century Monastery of St. John, with its enormous towers, domed roofs, belfries, and battlements. Inside this impressive museum, admire the artistry of the icons, manuscripts, and embroideries, and savor extraordinary views of the surrounding island and sea. Return to the ship for lunch as we cruise to the lush, mountainous island of Samos, a naval power in the seventh century B.C. Join an expert to explore the UNESCO-listed remains of the Heraion of Samos, a sanctuary dedicated to the Greek goddess Hera, who was believed to have been born on the island. View artifacts from its excavation at the Archaeological Museum. Dock overnight in the port. (B/L/D)

Neither AA nor the sponsoring institution and/or their agents, will be responsible for loss, injury, damages, expenses, delays, cancellations, payments, postponements, death or disruption in any manner caused by the laws, regulations, acts or failures to act, demands, orders or interpositions of any government or agent thereof, or to persons or property, due to illness, from whatever source, infectious disease, epidemic, pandemic, weather, insect bites, fire, flood, strikes, local laws, hostilities, insurrections, wars, acts of terrorism, acts of nature, or other such causes in connection with The Program or anything beyond their control. NOTE: Neither AA nor the sponsoring institution shall be liable for any costs, other than for The Program, including airline cancellation penalties incurred by the purchase of a non-refundable ticket. In the case of a cancellation due to a shortage of participants, AA will attempt to notify all participants at least 45 days prior to departure and will refund all payments made for The Program. However, AA has no obligation or duty to cancel any program for any reason whatsoever, including cases of force majeure and/or government action. Neither a postponement nor a withdrawal of sponsorship by a sponsoring organization constitutes a cancellation by AA. Should AA cancel The Program prior to departure for any reason, other than a shortage of participants as described above, reimbursement of refundable costs as determined by AA shall constitute full settlement with the participant.
